JOURNEY THROUGH CHINA WITH A CULINARY KING

Join acclaimed Melbourne chef Tony Tan on his 2011 Gourmet Tour of China and experience 12 days of cuisine, culture and history in one of the oldest civilisations in the world.

A familiar face in Australian living rooms from SBS television's The Food Lovers' Guide to Australia, Tony Tan is a recognised industry figure and has previously managed the highly successful Tatler's Cafe in Sydney and Shakahari in Melbourne.

Guests will be treated to the best in Chinese cuisine and culture stretching from the metropolitan hub of Shanghai, to the home of the famous terracotta warriors in Xian for $7,899* per person twin share.

The tour includes cooking classes with some of China's best chefs, lunch in traditional tea houses, shopping at China's famous markets and a full day tour exploring the historic Great Wall.

Covering some of the most important and well preserved locations in the country, including the 1,000 year old water town of Zhujiajiao and the Meijiawu village tea plantation, the tour is a unique journey into China's culinary history.

Optional extras include a tour of Xian's Old City, including the fascinating history of the mighty Silk Road as well as a visit to the site of the legendary terracotta warriors and the Mausoleum of Emperor Qin Shihuang.

The package includes economy domestic fares and transfers in China, 11 nights twin share accommodation, seven lunches, 10 dinners and daily breakfast.

This offer is available until capacity is reached for travel on September 9, 2011.

*Price is subject to change and availability at the time of booking.
